English

Spoken Language - Questioning/Listening Skills

Contextual Summary

This is an English resource that engages students with their visit to the Isle of Wight Donkey Sanctuary. The resource task enables them to practise their thinking and questioning skills as well as their research and writing skills. Students are asked to come up with a number of questions prior to their visit. Using their experiences at the Sanctuary as their stimulus material, they will then collect information and endeavour to ask further questions whilst on site. The pupils are then expected to record their collected information in an appropriate manner on their return. The task is designed to appeal to students in upper key stage 1.

Introduced before the visit to the Donkey Sanctuary so that students are aware of the need to plan their questions and can form ideas for possible creative research.

It is anticipated that students will have an enriched experience as they will be reflecting on the potential research opportunities prior to their school visit as well as being able to find out information in a number of ways whilst on-site. The follow up activities will be inspired by the real and practical ways in which the information has been gathered. This will reinforce how English can provide valuable tools for communication.

Ability Levels

There is one mixed ability variant of this resource, for upper key stage 1.

Teachers can support students in their undertaking of the tasks as necessary for ability.

Key skills practised in this unit:

- ▶ Planning for research
- ▶ Constructing different types of questions using Bloom's Taxonomy
- ▶ Gathering information through reading, speaking and listening
- ▶ Recording information in an engaging manner.

Relationship to Curriculum

The above skills are required to be taught and practised as per the National Curriculum for key stage 1 English: speaking for a purpose using Standard English; confidence and competence in speaking; reading for information; writing to inform.

Students will learn to consider choices of questions and also the need for using Standard English. They will be given opportunities to interview adults thereby encouraging confidence and competence in their speaking skills. Some information will be gathered through reading the information boards thus reinforcing the need to read for a purpose. When recording the information, pupils will need to consider purpose, audience, layout and language choices.

Pre-Visit

- ▶ The pre-visit task could be used to explore the importance of asking the right questions, e.g. open and closed questions.
